iry herds. This should also be something that all dairy and other livestock have access to. There are m:

any studies that show that cows that are grass fed are healthier and produce both dairy and meat that is is healthier for the consumer. We have been using grassfed beef and dairy for the past year and are so t thankful to have local access to it. We need to continue to keep organic standards high and continue to fight for the rights of the animals that are serving us. Thanks so much for your help on this and please also consider making the humane treatment of other animals such as chickens a high priority. From the » research I have done, it is appalling to think that these animals from non-organic farms are suffering lik ce they are.
